Guía Rápida de Gramática Inglés — Nivel C1 (CEFR)

Estructuras de dominio avanzado (C1): matices estilísticos, subjuntivo, estructuras enfáticas complejas y recursos propios de un hablante casi nativo.

1. Subjuntivo (The Subjunctive Mood)

Se usa en contextos formales tras verbos de sugerencia/exigencia (suggest, recommend, insist, demand, propose) y en expresiones fijas. El verbo no cambia según la persona (base form).

Ej: The doctor recommended that she rest for a week. (no 'rests')

Ej: It is essential that everyone be on time. (no 'is')

Ej: The committee insists that the report be submitted by Monday.

■ Este subjuntivo 'de forma base' es más común en inglés americano formal/escrito; en inglés británico a veces se prefiere 'should + verbo': 'that she should rest'.

2. Estructuras enfáticas avanzadas

Inversión con condicionales (sin IF)

Ej: Were I in your position, I would resign. (= If I were...)

Ej: Had I known, I would have told you. (= If I had known...)

Ej: Should you need anything, don't hesitate to call. (= If you should need...)

Fronting (anteposición) para énfasis

Ej: Little did she know that her life was about to change. / Such was his anger that he couldn't speak.

3. Nominalización — estilo académico y formal

Convertir verbos/adjetivos en sustantivos abstractos da un tono más formal y objetivo, típico de ensayos y textos académicos.

Estilo hablado	Estilo nominalizado (formal)
They decided quickly.	Their decision was quick.
The government reduced taxes, so the economy grew.	The reduction of taxes by the government led to economic growth.
We analyzed the data carefully.	A careful analysis of the data was conducted.

4. Hedging — lenguaje matizado y cauteloso

Usado para sonar objetivo, evitar afirmaciones absolutas y suavizar opiniones en contextos formales o académicos.

Ej: It could be argued that... / It seems likely that... / To a certain extent, this is true. / This may suggest that...

■ El hedging es clave en escritura académica: en vez de decir 'This is true', un texto C1 dice 'This appears to be largely true, although further research is needed.'

5. Discourse markers avanzados (organización del discurso)

Función	Marcadores
Añadir información	furthermore, in addition, what's more
Contrastar	conversely, on the contrary, that said
Concluir	in essence, all things considered, to sum up
Dar ejemplos	to illustrate, a case in point is...
Precisar/matizar	strictly speaking, in a sense, to some extent

6. Voz pasiva con verbos de reporte (estilo periodístico/formal)

Ej: The economy is expected to grow by 3% this year.

Ej: The suspect is believed to have fled the country.

Ej: Several measures are said to be under consideration.

7. Oraciones de relativo reducidas y complejas

En estilo avanzado se pueden omitir pronombres relativos y usar participios para hacer el discurso más fluido y menos redundante.

Ej: The man standing by the door is my colleague. (= who is standing)

Ej: The report submitted last week revealed several issues. (= which was submitted)

Ej: Most of the data collected, which was later verified, supported the theory.

8. Delexical verbs (make/do/have/take + sustantivo)

Verbo	Colocaciones comunes
make	make a decision, make progress, make an effort, make a difference
do	do research, do damage, do harm, do business
have	have an impact, have a tendency, have an effect
take	take responsibility, take action, take a risk, take into account

9. Modalidad avanzada y matices de certeza

Ej: There is every likelihood that prices will rise. / It is highly unlikely that the plan will succeed. / One cannot rule out the possibility that...

En discurso indirecto avanzado, se pueden reportar ideas completas sin depender de 'said that':

Ej: According to the report, unemployment has fallen significantly. / The study suggests a strong correlation between the two variables.

10. Idioms y expresiones de registro formal/académico

Ej: to shed light on (arrojar luz sobre) / to give rise to (dar lugar a) / a double-edged sword (arma de doble filo) / to strike a chord (resonar emocionalmente) / to be at the forefront of (estar a la vanguardia de)

■ En C1 tu meta es adaptar el registro (formal/informal) según el contexto y usar recursos estilísticos —nominalización, hedging, inversión— para sonar preciso y sofisticado.
